A SMALL SYNOPSIS OF THEATRICAL PRODUCTIONS

Miss Julie

When people drink they start to talk, and talking can be dangerous. The Count's daughter Miss Julie feels trapped and alone. Downstairs in the servant's kitchen the handsome & rebellious footman is feeling restless. When they meet a passion explodes and spirals out of control. A masterpiece which caused a scandal when first produced.

Saturday Night & Sunday Morning

Alan Sillitoe's iconic novel transformed into a spectacular new stage version. Rebellious young factory worker Arthur Seaton has reasons to drink, reasons to fight and have many girls on the go. But eventually he starts to understand the meaning of love. A brutally honest portrayal of life in Nottingham in the 50's.

The Mousetrap

The first ever tour of Agatha Christie's Mousetrap; now in its 60th year was first commissioned by Queen Mary, who wanted a new murder mystery story = a real 'who done it' to keep you in suspense until the very last minute.

The Phantom of The Opera

Cameron Mackintosh's spectacular new production of Phantom. We have secured excellent centre stall seats.

OEDIPUSSY

One mother of a brilliant comedy. A tale of forbidden lust, accidental incest, violent murder. The ultimate dysfunctional family; a jealous father and a messed up son. A quintessential Greek tragedy.

A Streetcar Named Desire by Tennessee William's

Lies, lies, inside & Out – all lies.

Lady Windermere's Fan – Oscar Wilde's first masterpiece

This young, rich and beautiful lady seems to have it all!! This comic thriller is full of intrigue, jealousy and brilliant one-liners.

HENRY V Portrays the romantic story of Henry's campaign to recapture the English possessions in France. This charismatic King's ambitions are challenged by a host of vivid characters.
